DETAILS

When: July 23-29, 2023

Where: Catholic University of America, DC

Who: 9th - 12th grade boys

Cost: $849

The National Convention brings together ECYD and RC young men in high school from all over the country in order to deepen their faith and brotherhood with Christ, and to form themselves into real and effective apostles for our Lord to their peers TODAY, choosing to join the ranks of Christian warriors and saints before them. Each year we rotate sites across North America and are happy to gather this summer in Washington DC!

We will be hearing from leaders from across the sectors of culture: politics, business, law, media, Church. Archbishop Broglio of the US Military Services and current president of the USCCB, will be celebrating a special Mass for the participants.
